

IAMM Mission Statement

What is I.A.M.M.?

The International Association of Music Ministries (I.A.M.M.) is an inter-denominational organization comprised of gospel music ministries whose primary focus is to evangelize the world, edify the church body, and maintain an honorable lifestyle and personal walk with God. Its membership also includes other Christian music support ministries that embrace the same mission and commitment. This gospel music ministries association is comprised of Southern Gospel, Country Gospel, and other styles of music ministry.

What is I.A.M.M.'s Purpose?

IAMM's purpose is to embrace, encourage, endorse, assist and protect gospel music ministries who recognize that God has called them to use their musical abilities to minister, and whose audiences can testify to the validity of that calling.

IAMM seeks to help raise up God-ordained music ministries to a proper level of identification and utilization.

How does I.A.M.M. intend to carry out its purpose?

IAMM holds up a standard of righteous behavior that is based on Biblical principles and instructions to which its membership is expected to abide by and embrace. These standards of righteous behavior and ethical practices will help its members be effective for Christ and successful in ministry.

IAMM is an organization that provides for its members additional incentive to abide by its endorsement of a ministry's ability, credibility, and offers a referral service if necessary.

IAMM provides a group of people who hold each other accountable for their living by the standard of righteous and ethical behavior as set forth in Scripture and by IAMM.

IAMM seeks to provide respite/sanctuary for ministry artists through conferences and fellowship.

IAMM wants to provide a counseling and recovery program for damaged ministries who have failed to live by Biblical standards.
